SURVIVOR® SR

Siderail truck scale with MSHA Guardrails*

Recent policy changes from the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) have placed stronger standards and enforcement on truck scale guardrails. Are you in compliance? If your scale will be classified as an elevated roadway, consider Rice Lake's SURVIVOR SR. Not only are you getting the toughest scale on earth—it's also the safest. Two massive wide-flange I-beams straddle the SR weighbridge, each providing the rigid mounting surface for our high-visibility steel guardrails. Together, I-beam and guardrail form a solid barricade that meets all axle-height requirements and provides even more protection to moving vehicles. It's a combination that keeps drivers safe, our scale compliant*, and you…in business.

 Compliance subject to local MSHA inspection*
